MID-CENTURY FRENCH STYLE SOFA

Taking the minimalist aesthetics of the Song Dynasty as the core, it abandons intricate carvings. The warm walnut frame outlines neat lines, paired with plain cotton and linen upholstery, reproducing the Oriental philosophy of "the heaven is round and the earth is square". The armrest curve is derived from the shadow of ancient bridge arches, and the backrest tilt angle fits ergonomics, hiding ingenuity in simplicity. The design aims to create a "realm of emptiness", making the sofa a blank space in the room, carrying modern people's yearning for tranquility and zen. Between the flow of light and shadow, feel the elegance and calm of Oriental life.

Tracing back to the style of literati gatherings in the Song Dynasty, it integrates scholarly charm into design details. The sofa frame adopts traditional mortise and tenon structure without a single iron nail, showing ancient craftsmanship; the backrest is inlaid with low-relief bamboo and stone patterns, implying the gentlemanly character of "plum, orchid, bamboo and chrysanthemum". The upholstery is made of off-white satin fabric with a delicate touch, paired with detachable back cushions printed with thin gold calligraphy poems, combining practicality and cultural heritage. The core of the design is to make the furniture a carrier of literati spirit, allowing users to immerse themselves in the elegant artistic conception of "tea smoke flutters in the wind of falling flowers" when resting, and feel the continuation of the thousand-year cultural context.

Tracing back to the style of literati gatherings in the Song Dynasty, it integrates scholarly charm into design details. The sofa frame adopts traditional mortise and tenon structure without a single iron nail, showing ancient craftsmanship; the backrest is inlaid with low-relief bamboo and stone patterns, implying the gentlemanly character of "plum, orchid, bamboo and chrysanthemum". The upholstery is made of off-white satin fabric with a delicate touch, paired with detachable back cushions printed with thin gold calligraphy poems, combining practicality and cultural heritage. The core of the design is to make the furniture a carrier of literati spirit, allowing users to immerse themselves in the elegant artistic conception of "tea smoke flutters in the wind of falling flowers" when resting, and feel the continuation of the thousand-year cultural context.
